[Correspondence of the Loutsville Jourgel.] THE HOSPITALS AT BOWLING GREEN,

Bowling Green, March, 1862. The stoppage of travel to Nashville compelling me to a temporary sojourn in the town from whence this is dated, and giving me time for a thorough examination, I thought a faw lines in your paper might not prove uninteresting to your many readers with regard to its present state, more especially as to its hospitals for the sick coldiers, many of our good samaritans desiring to know their condition.

I left Louisville on a very rainy morning, and n arriving, waded through the mnd from the cars to Barren River, just as they were finishing hat troublesome affair the ponton bridge. The rst thing to catch the eye were the heeds of two rowued horses and the top of a wagon, which and gone over the bridge in the attempt to cross.

There were numerous passengers, and the fun was fast and furious to see them trying to get own the mnd hank, some leaving boots, and in ne case stockings and all, behind them-those who had got on the other side, and the soldiers engaged in building, looking on enjoying it, while the lugubrious locks and shirking manner of the ncrossed ones, made up quite a lively scene. My first feeling on arriving in town was that was entering some Kentncky Cologue unknown as yet to famo, for, if that famous city of sweet melling water has its thousand smalls, Bowling Green has denble the number, each one rivailing the other in intensity; though, during the few days I have been here, the municipal anthorities have been exerting themselves in cleaning the SPRING TRADE streets up somewhat, and I fancy (I cannot say for a certainty) that I perceive one or two wellknown ones to have disappeared. The town itself looks a wreck-burnt houses, closed stores, fences down, and general disorder visible everywhere-I mean as far as regards the onildings and grounds, for as to the living portion it is about as quiet and orderly a place as I est says that during the last session of the have entered for same time. Thanks to the The main feature of interest are the fort which I visited. Baker's and College Hill Forts seem to me the only atrong ones, as regards the works of the former, and position of the last I ascertained there were about 400 sick soldier n the the town, mostly cases of typhold fever and pneumouit, there being but seven cases of ruptive disease, and they recovering. They are livided among four hospitals, the largest of which visited accompanied by the post surgeon, Dr. Chase, of Zanesville, Ohio, who kindly showed ne over the building, and as among all my hos pital visitings this is the one "par excellence," will give you a short sketch of the mode in which it is conducted, and I think your readers will con clude with myself that Dr. Chase is a thorough many wrecks are the result. Immense fields of aystematic business man, in addition to his wel known medical abilities. The hospital is a larg building on the corner of the public square, which the Doctor had thoroughly sconred and whitewashed before removing the patients into. There are now in it 160 patients; it is divided into fond ward, each having a ward master assisted by 38 attendants. I examined every ward in detail and I did not sea a dirty place in the building, indead It would put to shoma many privata houses hore TA tract of land, belonging to Mr. Robert as regards cleenliness. this affectionate letter to a sister:

Dear Sister Currie: You asked me in your last letter what I thought of the prospect of our dearly beloved cause. To be cardid, I have little hope for it as access now, though last December I felt confident we would be recognized before the coming June. I don't like the Lankeese a hit; I have been edecated to have them, and I do hate them heartily; but I must acknowledge like South has been sadly includent their character. We have always belinved thet the Yankeese would not light for anything like a principle; that they had no chivality, no poetry in their nature. Perhapithey have not, but that they are brave, determined, parsevering, they have proved beyond question.

The trouble with them is that they never get itred of anything. They lost all the battles at first, and after blanassas we despised them. This year has icoaugnrated a new order of affaira. We are beaten at all points. We do nothing but surrender and evercate; and, while I hate the lincolnites more than ever, I respect them—I can't help it—for their dogged obstinacy and the elow but steady manner in which they carry out their pleus.

I have lost heart in our cause. There is something wrong—somewhere. Jeff Davis and our political leaders are either knaves or foola. They draw us into our present difficulties, not now have no way of slowing us out of them.

If the South had known whit would have been the result of saccession, no Siate, noleas South Carolina, would bave gone out of the Union. PUT NONE BUT LOYAL MEN ON GUARD.-We hope this maxim will be kept vividly in mind by the friends of the Union in selecting candidates at the approaching elections. It is just and necessary.

Leyalty beyond reproach and above suspicion eught in every instance to be held an indispensable qualification. The rule should be absolute. Let it be enforced with stern and scrupulous fidelity. Though a candidate have every other qualification in perfection, and have not loyally, he should he deemed "as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal."

TO THE LOYAL WOMEN OF KENTUCKY. Kentucky esrnes:ly appeal to the loyal women of Kentucky to be active, zealons, and energetic in preparations for great events that will seen tax the highest efforts of Kentneky for the te battle fer the highest interests ever confided to men. Kentucky has nearly thirty thousand men of arms in the field, and wo all know them well enough to be assured, that, where fighting is done, Kentucky seldiers are not likely to pass unscatbed in the sterm of battle. Illinois, Indiana, Onio, and Pennsylvnnia stand ready at a measent's warning to fly to the fields of carnage to take care of their sufhave large rooms for storage, and will be happy places as may demand thesethings. Kentucky to send men and women to the battle-fields of the South, where their presence will be certhis neblest of humanity's enterprises.

MR. YANCET'S SPEECH IN NEW ORLEANS. Mr. Yancey, to the discredit of our blockade, succeeded in getting into New Orleans. He made a speech there en the evening of the 13th inst. The Huntsville Advecate of the 19th contains the subjoined synopsis of it. We

France interfere at all in our nffairs, it will be ties. only for the purpose of preventing the reconstruction of n Power, whose prosperity and greatness they had come to regard with jealeusy. Yes, the chicf apostle of the rebellion virtually informs the people of his section, his se called Confederacy, that the main anxiety several parts into the mighty whole it enco was and to keep it in the condition where soif perpetuated, the nations of the eld world, will. Wby is it that the whole masses, even rebel States, with such things placed right before their eyes, will not, if one drop of the bleed of their fathers still reddens in their veins, renounce the accursed rebellion and raise the eld cry of "eno flag, one country, and one destiny?" Must they not see that not less than ours, is the great object of the back to the allegiance they have cast off and blockading floct wherever she goes, and to defy Western continent? Mr. Yancey is decidedly of the opinion that the South has no friends in Europe, and that the North is in a similar condition. He says there is n very errong prejudice in all of Europe against the South in consequence of an erroneous impresion which prevails in reference to the institution of slavery. There are many persons in Europe who consider the Sonthern people semi-civilized, that stock is. There is no disposition to interfere in American affairs.

The blockade enables the British holders of the great stapie (cutton) to realize an immense advance upon its cost in consequence of the scarcity of the stricle. These holders are the wealthy few, who have the ear of the government. Another reason for not interfering with the hlockade was the helief that the exercity of the article, and the remote presence of obtaining a samply and the remote presence of the sample of t and the remote prospect of obtaining a supply from this country, would create such a domaid for East ladis cotton as to increase its culture to a very considerable extent.

Another reason, in Mr. Yancey's epinion, wby Enropean powers will not interfere in American affairs is the hope and helief that a permanent dissolution of the United States will weaken a nation of whose prosperity and groatness they had become jealous. They hope to see the war protracted until both divisions are involved in uinons dabt, to hang over them like an incubns for years to come.

He inclines to the opinion that England and Its inclines to the opinion that Englind and France would sooner interfere to prevent a reconstruction of the Union than for any other purpose. And he helieves that unless their etarving operatives, engaged in the manufacture of cotton fahrics, compel them to interfere, they will stand aloof natil they see the South is about to conquerits independence, or fail in the attempt. He has no hope of recignition of the Confederate States without the confederate states. Yancey is of opinion that we might as well recall our Commissioners from Europe, and swait the action of foreign powers—wait natil they propose negotiation and recognition.

All this is obviously enough but a soft way of confessing that the rebellion is a failure. It is one of these euphemisms in which the rebel leaders from the beginning have been accustomed to conch truths disagreeable to the rebels. Mr. Yanccy always was a euphemist of the first order. But in this instance lie has scarcely drawn the figure sufficiently strong to conceal the ugly truth beneath. The rebellion is a failure, and his effort to disguise the cenfession only renders it tho plainer. It cannot be possible that the men of the South will much lenger persist in a cause that is not only criminal but se utterly broken. The war expenditures of Arkansas amount already, exclusive of what she has get to pay en the Confederato Gevernment's account, to nearly eight dellars per head for her whele population-a good deal more than all the rebels of the State would sell for, nnless blacked and struck off as niggers.

We have some most formidable vessels under the star-spangled banner on the Missisippi river. A good many of the "weaker vessels" in our city sail under the rebel flag.

The Editor of the Mississippian says ho

"always willing to do a kind act even to a

Grand Opening.

OUR HOUSE OF FASHION -All that the "Hones of Gold" in Paris is to the ladies of fashion in that gay metropolis, is tha little temple of Mrs. Mayer, at No. 302 Fourth streat, to the dames and belles of Louisvilla. Her bonnets and hats are the perfection of elegance, and no one's taste is considered superb until they have consulted her. She will open her spring styles of bonnets, hats, ribbons, etc., on the first of April, until which time our fashionables will be all excitement and expectation. She has many uovellies in recerva for the grand opening, one of the most charming of which is the Vesnvius bonnet.

THE POLICY TO BE PURSUED BY GEN. JOHNSON.

THE NOMENATION OF HARRIS FOR KING.

I had, during a residence berein 1851 of several months, often heard Governor Harris denominated "King Harris," but did not know the origin of the title. I remember the Banner, during the canvass for Governor, need to harp extensively on the phrase, and Bell Polk, ilarris's opponent, brought him late ridicale by his use of the title. General Johnston referred to the proposition and so in 1860 to make Harris Dictator or King of the State, a time having arrived in which it heoame necessary to establish some such power to rightly govern the State. He asked the people how they liked the idea of heing governed by euch a man as Isham G. Harris? The audience did not seem to relish the idea. Harris is a small, contemptible locking object, wearing his hat and halr in such a mancer as to give him the appearance of a Howery bey just out of the city. He described the conglomeration of disgusting and dagraded materiale which, alloyed, formed the base motal which he contemp usually named Isham G. Harrie "He your king!" exclaimed the epseker. ASTROLOGY Look Out! Good News for All! THE NEVER-FAILING MADAMF IBABEL SNELL is the best. She succeeds when all others have failed. All who ere in trouble; all who have been unfortunate, all whose fond hopes have been disappointed, crushed, and blasted by false promises and decelt—all fly to her for advice and satisfaction.

In love affairs she never fails—Sha shows you the likeness of year fracture husband or wife. She guide the shalls be a liver broughtle.

In unmerable instances, and the result has slavely and happy marriage. She is Therefore a sure dependence. and harpy marriage. She is therefore a sure dependence.

It is well known to the public at large that she was the dirt and she is now the only person in this country who can show the likeness in reality, and who can giventities as lafaction on all the concerns of life, which can be attested and proved by thousands, both merried and single, who daily and esgrily visit her. To all in breinese her advice is invaluable. She can foretal, with the greatest certainty, the result of all commercial and business transactions. Madems Snell is a bonaffed Astrologist that every one can depend upon. She is the greatest Astrologist of the nineteenth century. Some ladies may be a lettle timid, though they need not fear, for she practices nothing hit what is reconclude to philosophers; In fact a slowle visit will estify the most firstinions of her respectability, moral restitude, and of the purity of her profession and prectice. All laterviews are strictly private and confiduatial; therefore come, one—come, all. the purity of ner procession and prefere. All interviews are strictly private and confiduatial; therefore come, one—come, all.

The Tallman give to the soldiers so as to protect them in battle for nothing.

P. S.—Madama Soull will tell the names and ages of all visitors, and will also cast their Horoscope and give them their nativity, also tell the place where they will be most fortunate. Every person who cannot get along in this world and has bad luck should be in possession of her Horoscope and get her written opinion of his future prospect in life.

We madama Shell is the only one that can make DR. HUFFLAND'S LIFE ESSENCE pure, which can only be laid at her office, 500 Eighth street. She can also find out through her socret all circumstances of sickness and tell what will cure, as there are roots growing for every disease in the world.
